NEW KIDS IN TOWN -- F. G. Miller's visitors from St.-Romuald, Quebec, shown with their FGM "twins," were warmly greeted by their host community with a special assembly first on F. G. Miller High School's agenda Friday morning. The students and their chaperones are here for a week and will enjoy trips to Cold Lake, Edmonton and Lloydminster as well as seeing the highlights of the Elk Point area before they return home to Quebec on Friday. The Elk Point "twins" will visit Quebec in May.

F. G. Miller High School

The F. G. Miller Grade 9 & 10 French Club has welcomed our Quebec Exchange students from Ecole Secondaire de l' Aubier in Saint - Romuald, Quebec, who are visiting our community from February 26 to March 6, 1998 as part of the SEVEC Exchange Program.

There are two parts to the exchange, which will end with 18 students from F. G. Miller High visiting Quebec from May 4 to 11, 1998.

Our thirteen Quebec friends and their supervisors, Jean-Pierre Velleaux and Jean-Francois Fortier began the exchange by arriving in Elk Point late last Thursday. On Friday morning the St.-Romuald students were formally welcomed with a morning rally. Visiting students were introduced by their twins and presented with welcome packages made possible by donations from the Province of Alberta and the community.

On Saturday, the students experienced a multi-cultural afternoon featuring local entertainment. This was followed by a potluck supper fro the Quebec students and their host families.

The entertainment lineup included renowned fiddler Homer Poitras, his grandchildren Corbin and Jasmine Poitras who did a Red River Jig, three groups of Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club members, vocalist Rob Holliday accompanied by pianist Gabe Bayduza, Frog Lake singer Marmie Quinney, cowboy poet Vicki Brooker, F. G. Miller's own songstress Pam Jabush, and special guest Jean-Pierre Velleaux who accompaied his song, "Les Immortelles, on piano.

Sunday was spent with the host families and allowed the students to rest up for the week ahead.

Red Cross launches campaign

"Friends for Life..." that's the message volunteer canvassers are bringing to residents of Elk Point starting March 1, 1998 as the Red Cross Society kicks off its annual door-to-door campaign.

Last year saw Red Cross responding to the Manitoba Flood Appeal over $22 million was raised by Canadians. Red Cross field workers assessed individual needs and provided financial assistance where required. Closer to home, trained Red Cross responders helped more than 3000 Albertans in the critical hours after they had survived personal emergencies such as fire or flooding.

Jean McGinnis says this year's fundraising target for Elk Point is $8,000. All donations will be used to support delivery of Red Cross programs in Alberta that

Multi Club speak-off goes into overtime

A long afternoon of prepared and impromptu speeches went into overtime on Sunday when a second impromptu was required to break a tie in the Senior division of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club Public Speaking Competition.

Peter Danyluk, who gave an enthusiastic and informative prepared speech on his "Pigskin Passion" and a hilarious impromptu on the power his executive position of club president brings, was declared the Senior winner, but two speakers, Michelle Leckie and James Babenek, had totalled up equal points for their pairs of speeches.

Michelle spoke knowledgeably about "Careers Involving Horses" and followed up with an impromptu answering the question, "Do you think your education has prepared you for the future?" James spoke with great feeling on the warning signs and frightening statistics of "Suicide" and answered the question "Do you feel safe at school?" in his impromptu. The tie-breaking impromptu topic for both was "Don't put all your eggs in one basket," and resulted in a win for Michelle.

Peter was presented with the Alberta Treasury Branch trophy by manager Richard Lavoie, while Michelle received the Norcen Energy Resources trophy from Ken Ference. A total of five speakers competed in the senior division.

A sister and brother team placed first and second in the Junior division. Leanne Ference, who won the Elk Point Review trophy, presented an entertaining prepared speech on "Cooking, Crafts and Stuff" and an impromptu on the benefits of "Swimming," while her younger brother Colin spoke on the enjoyment of youth in "The Kid in Me," with an impromptu on the fun of playing "Baseball." Colin was presented with the Norcen Energy Resources trophy by his dad, Ken.

The senior speakers were judged by Laverne Wilson, Shiela Thompson and Margaret Modin. Wilson said, "Tonight, I think you are all winners," and complimented the speakers on their well researched and well prepared speeches. Millie Orr, speaking on behalf of junior judges Elena Drobot, Sandra Bishop, Marguerite Miller, Olga Ockerman, Jodi Vogel and herself, remarked on the progress the juniors have made over previous speakoffs: "Those kids just got up there and went to town!" Ken Ference reminded the audience that public speaking is far from easy. "It's taking part that makes all the kids a winner."

Four very special awards were also a part of the afternoon. Richard Lavoie presented four Awards of Excellence from the Alberta Treasury Branch, with bronze awards going to Erin and Marci Bintz, and silver awards going to Taralee Babenek and Peter Danyluk.

Sunday was spent with the host families and allowed the students to rest up for the week ahead.

Monday began with a tour of the Windsor Salt Plant, followed by a tour of the Cold Lake Air Base and community.

Today is a packed day with a tour of the Alberta Legislature and will end with the highlight for our Quebec friends — West Edmonton Mall.

Wednesday will find the students experiencing Ference's bison and elk farms, Ranger Oil and a stop at the Peter Fidler statue.

Thursday will be spent in Lloydminster, touring the Barr Colony Museum and border markers.

It will be a long Friday for our visiting students. At 7 a.m. they will say goodbye to us until we meet again in St.-Romuald, May 4.

Following is a list of our students and their twins. Because our group is larger than St. Romuald's, the five boys did not host a student, but placements have been found for them when we go to Quebec.

Special thanks to all those businesses and community organizations who helped us out in both large and small ways.

A complete list of sponsors will appear in a thank you article to be published after our return from Quebec in May.

Our guests and their twins:

Claudine Baron — Dawn Lameman; Julia Bergeron — Joanne deMoissac; Caroline Bolduc — Julie Young; Marie-Pier Carrier — Chantelle Maas; Christine Cauchon — Melissa DeSilva; Caroline Decosta — Jena Bassett; Stéphanie Fortier — Tanya Pankiw; Amélie Frongilio — Julie Whiffen-Peters; Karine Guay — Jamie Schnurer; Claudia Plamondon — Denise deMoissac; Valérie Poulin-Gourdeau — Terina Nixon; Jessie Prince-Beaulieu — Bomee Lee; Andréanna Roy-Gagnon — Carlen Mutch

Spring, school daze and all that stuff!

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

How are your students doing with all this nice weather? It is like spring is in the air and then winter still wants to be around, so it snows. All the confusing messages of the weather man must be sending mixed signals to our students. Should we do our school work or should we go out and play?

Speaking of confusing or mixed signals, did you hear the story from the Land of the Setting Sun? Japan's Omrom Corporation unveiled its earthquake alarm, dubbed 'Shaking Boy.' The device senses seismic activity, indicates its magnitude, then stats flashing an emergency beacon and announcing useful emergency procedures, such as "Dive under the table."

Maybe the weather doesn't make any difference. Just maybe all students love attending school and are excited about learning all the time! How about that? Did you know that some parents in Rolland, Connecticut, decried a local school program that rewarded students for good grades as "elist." School officials noted that since the program was put in place, the number of students on the honor roll had risen fifteen percent.

But, of course, all out students who attend the schools in Elk Point are "elist" as they all receive good grades — no matter what the weather is — right?

Now I hope you wouldn't argue with me on this point because if we start to quarrel about the fact that our students in Elk Point are all "elist" or not, we might miss the point. For example, there is a story about two people who quarrelled in Maryland. Two paid and six volunteer firefighters in Prince Georges County, Maryland, began to quarrel over who should be first to carry the hose into the building. The argument escalated into a fight that required county police to break up. Now that is a story about first things first.

You are probably asking, where is she getting these stories? The three stories I have used in this article come from newspaper clippings and they are quoted in the book "More Dumb, Dumber, Dumbest" by John J. Kohut and Roland Sweet.

I hope you have enjoyed the humour of these stories. It just seems like when the weather is so nice, it is really hard to keep our students motivated to do well in school. So rather than get upset with our students, my suggestion: take time to laugh.

That leads me to a concluding thought.... "Kids are kids — and they really do, do funny things sometimes." So take time to laugh with them and enjoy this nice weather we are having. After all, if a student enjoys being in his/her school environment — learning will be enhanced and he/she will become "elist."

Adult day support being developed

The Adult Day Support Program is a new program which has been developed in conjunction with the Elk Point Health Centre and Community Care through the Respite Care Committee.

This program provides healthy living with social and recreational activities within a group setting to persons in the community who are frail, chronically ill or disabled. It promotes maximum independence, to delay or prevent institutionalization as long as possible.

The program will be offered Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The cost of the program will be $6.00 per day.

An open house will be held March 19, 1998 from 2 to 4 p.m. to tour the facility and share in the programs being offered. Families and community members are welcome. The program officially begins March 24. Watch for the official Open House ad in next week's paper.

For more information please call 724-3847 and ask for Pam Ballas, Extension 147.

Spotlight on volunteers

Young volunteer valued at Parkview

By Carolyn Onusko
Parkview Extended Care

The residents and staff look forward to seeing a fresh, young and happy face come through the doors at Parkview.

As Laci Jacobson began the seventh grade at F. G. Miller High School, she was more than willing tho help out in the Recreation Department. For four evenings a week after school you will find Laci making birthday posters, doing art, playing games, helping with crafts, reading, taking residents for wheelchair walks, helping with baking and cleanup, and much more.

Laci is even willing to give up her weekends when Recreation staff are working. Mature beyond her years, she relates well to the residents and displays a gentle manner. Recently, she feels confident enough to plan and carry out some programming on her own.

Laci is fortunate to work with her great-grandfather as he is a resident at Parkview. She mentions the fact that if her great-grandmother has to move, she should move to Parkview as it's so nice here. It's great to see this perception in someone so young.

To date, Laci has volunteered 127 hours and 49 minutes. How's that for a twelve-year-old? This is a perfect example of how great our young people really are. A big bouquet. Our hats go off to you, Laci. Soon you'll be able to take over my job.

DEDICATED VOLUNTEER — Laci Jacobson shows Parkview resident Mary Ann Dillon the dog she made inHome Ec class.

4-H AWARDS OF EXCELLENCE -- were presented by Richard Lavoie of the Alberta Treasury Branch (centre) to (left to right) Erin and Marci Bintz, who both received bronze awards, and to Taralee Babenek and Peter Danyluk, both receiving silver awards. The awards are based on the 4-H members' involvement inthe various activities of the 4-H program, as recorded in their 4-H journals.

Local business supports Health Centre

HELPING HAND FOR HEALTH CENTRE — Cindy Robertson (left) of the Hilltop Motor Inn presents Pam Ballas, Nursing Supervisor at the Elk Point Health Centre, with a donation toward specialized equipment.

A local business recently made a donation in support of the Elk Point Health Centre. Cindy Robertson, representing the Hilltop Motor Inn, presented the Elk Point Health Centre with a cheque for $1000. The funds are going toward the purchase of a specialized mattress that helps to relieve sensitive pressure points for patients and residents who are bedridden for an extended period of time.

The donation comes at a most opportune time, as capital equipment funding in the health field is feeling the pinch of regionalization and cuts to health care funding. The staff and management at the Health Centre extend a sincere thanks.

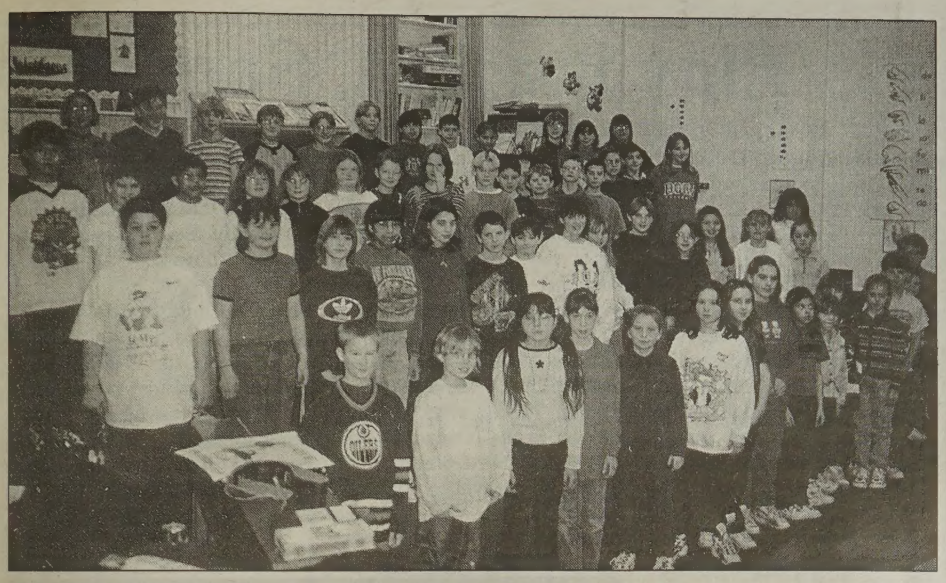
those displaced by disasters, help prevent drowning and injuries, and alleviate human suffering.

The Red Cross in Alberta trains some 200,000 people per year in water safety. These training programs are designed to prevent drowning — the second leading cause of death among Canadians under the age of 24.

To help prevent injuries — the leading cause of death for Canadians between the ages of one and 44 — the Society trained more than 17,000 Albertans last year through Standard First Aid, Emergency First Aid, Heartsaver, Peoplesaver, Babysitter and Infant/Child CPR programs. The Society also completed more than 3000 initiatives to promote injury prevention.

"To continue these vital services, we really need the support of Albertans," says Jean McGinnis. "No matter how large or small, donations to the Red Cross make a significant difference in our communities."

Local long term canvassers who will receive pins this year are: Barb Anderson, Lois Yaremkevich, Jeannette Frisby, Darlene Kozicky, who have each canvassed for 10 years, Lois Nichols, 15 years, and Laverne Wilson, 20 years.



POSTER PAINTERS -- Sixty five Elk Point Elementary students took part in the Elks and OORP sponsored drug awareness poster contest.

Elks, OORP focus on drug awareness

Sixty five students in grades 4, 5 and 6 at Elk Point Elementary School recently took part in a poster contest which was part of the Elks and Royal Purple of Canada Literary and Poster Contest, aimed at helping youth focus on drug awareness.

Entries submitted by the three winners, Valerie Friesen, Eryl Anton-Roberts and Melissa Breen, have gone on to the next level of competition. The winners received cash prizes from the Elks and OORP.

Elk Point Elementary School thanks the Elks and Royal Purple Lodges for local sponsorship of this contest and for encouraging our youth to be more aware of these issues.

Minor Hockey news

By Doug Bassett and Caroline Décoste
Elk Point Minor Hockey

It's not over until the fat lady sings, and you know that those Kitscoty guys don't like to face the music. Big Ray, the Hawk and the Peewee Blades are down by two goals coming home after playing our friends from Kitscoty last Friday night in the first game of the two game series, losing a close one 5 to 3. An excellent game for the goaltending tag team of Chance Dumont and Brandon Parenteau. This coming Friday night at 7:30 at the 'Dome, the Blades will do battle in the second game of the two game total point series, with the winner going to the provincial finals tournament. Down by two goals is not impossible for the Blades, who were down by thee goals in the first round against Bonnyville and came back home to win the series. So dig out your cowbell and air horns, and head down to the 'Dome to give the Blades all the support you can. Big Ray promises to have a minimum of $100 in his 50/50 pot. And speaking of music, this is a song that I want everyone to practice for Friday night, when we send those Kitscoty Dobermans home with their tails between their legs. It's very simple, so try a couple lines with me: "Na, na, na, na, Na, na, na, na, Hey, Hey, Hey, Goodbye!" Yeah, that's right, you got it, that's good, just a little louder, that's good!"

Meanwhile, back home Friday night at the Dome, the Bantam Lightning had no contest when they hosted Cold Lake in an exhibition game, winning an easy one 9 to 3. A good night for two guys playing on the same line, Darcy Stafford and Dustin "Bones" Yaremkevich assisting each other on hat tricks. Next weekend the Lightning will play Marwayne in the first round of playoffs.

The Atom Thunder played another tough game on Saturday morning at home, this time against St. Paul. A good effort by two aggressive first year Atom players, Brian Whiffen-Peters and Nicky Myshaniuk. Watch out for these two guys the next few years.

Here's some other guys to watch out for. The production line of Ryan MacDonald, Chris Proskiw and Jeff Huseby were just racking up the points, Saturday afternoon at the 'Dome, totalling 10 points for that line alone, when the Novice Hurricanes defeated Kikino 8 to 3. Cody Wickham, a first year novice player who plays tough defence, also added two goals for the 'Canes.

The Atom Avalanche played in a tournament in the Pyrogy Capital on Saturday, taking second place in the "B" side. A good day for a big guy who's celebrating his birthday today. "Clear the track, Here comes Zack!" Happy birthday, Zack MacKinnon.

Just west of the Pyrogy Capital, in Mallaig, the site of next weekend's midget provincial finals, the Micro Novice Tornadoes, playing in their last road game of the season, were winning once more, this time by a huge score of 14 to 3. Kameron Ballas, Chevy Botting, and Shayden Anderson all with hat tricks, Garret Osinchuk and Jerin Bezpalko with two each and Ryan Marceniuk with a single. This coming Saturday, after being on the road for eleven weeks, the Tornadoes are finally playing at home when they host Mallaig. Then on Saturday the 14th of March, the Tornadoes will be hosting a six team tournament. Don't miss this one.

Play it again, Sam

The Midget Girls Storm played to a five-all tie when they hosted Redwater on Sunday. A hat trick for team captain Kandice Bjornstad, who was moved back on the forward line for this game, after playing defence for most of the season. Singles by "That's My Girl"Jena Bassett and "That's Brian's Girl" Megan Tucker, who also was moved to the forward line for this game. Next weekend the Storm will travel to Redwater to play in their annual tournament.

Our French exchange student Caroline told me that she wants to be a writer someday. She also told me that she doesn't really like hockey, but she likes the boys who play hockey. I think she has a lot in common with our midget girls from the Storm. She is helping me with my French, for next weekend when the midget boys are in provincials in Mallaig. Il reste trois minutes a jouer. Il tire et il compte. Tout du chapeau! Na, na, na, na, Na, na, na, na, Hey, Hey, Hey, au revoir!

Tax Tips

Tax breaks for students

By Lisa Martin
H & R Block

Tax time is the time of the year when students are starting to look forward to the end of another year of vigorous studies. Funds may be getting low so a big refund by using all available tax deductions can be very important.

Students who are 19 or over at the end of the year are eligible for the G.S.T. credit. A typical single student who makes less than $6,456 per year is eligible for $199 per year. As the income increases between $6,456 and $25,921, the credit can increase to the maximum of $304 per year. In order to receive this credit you must file an income tax return and apply for the credit.

Not all of your student income may be taxable. The first $500 of income from scholarships, fellowships, bursaries and achievement prizes is tax exempt, as are grants provided under provincial assistance programs. Student loans are completely non-taxable. Research grants are taxable, however you may deduct any expenses you incurred to conduct the research. If you earned wages as a teaching assistant it is taxable.

Tuition fees paid for the year in excess of $100 are also a tax credit. You must have an official tax receipt in order to claim these. Tuition fees paid for post secondary courses at a college or university and approved courses to improve your occupational skills qualify for this credit. The 1997 Federal Budget has expanded the definition of tuition fees to include other mandatory fees charged by post secondary educational institutions but do not include fees levied by student bodies.

You may also qualify to claim an education amount of $150 per month for every month or part month during which you were enrolled in a qualifying educational program. This amount has been increased from $100 per month in 1996 and will be increased to $200 per month for 1998. This credit is also available to full time post secondary students enrolled in distance education programs or correspondence courses. Unfortunately the small fortune you spend on books is not a deductible expense.

If the tuition fees or education amount are not needed to reduce your tax payable to zero they may be transferred to a parent or grandparent. If you are married or living common-law you may also transfer to your spouse. The maximum amount that may be transferred is $5,000. New for this year is another option available for students unable to fully use their tuition fees and education amount. Any unused amounts can now be carried forward and applied against income in future years.

The loss of a literary giant: W. O. Mitchell

By Michele Duczek
Librarian

Canada lost a literary giant last week when W. O. Mitchell succumbed to cancer. In honor of his life and career, the library has put together a display of his works. For those of you who have yet to discover Mitchell's work, now is a good time to give him a try. For those of us who are familiar with his books, take the time to revisit him.

New in adult nonfiction:

If you are looking for great gardening ideas, check out Lois Hole's Spring 1998 Gardening. This annual contains information on great new plants and old favorites.

Grow Wild!: Native Plant Gardening in Canada and Northern United States by Lorraine Johnson gets you started on your own low-maintainence, sure-success, indigenous style of garden.

Gordon Pape's 1998 Buyer's Guide to RRSPs and Gordon Pape's 1998 Buyer's Guide to Mutual Funds will help you make those critical financial planning decisions.

Adult fiction:

For twenty years Claire Randall has kept the secret of her time travel experience. Now she returns to Scotland with her grown daughter, prepared to tell her the truth of her amazing journey in Dragonfly in Amber by Diana Gabaldon. The sequel to Outlander.

Claire returned to her own time believing that Jamie Fraser had died at the battle of Culloden. Now she learns that he survived and she must now choose between returning to the past to be with him, or staying in her own time and and raising their daughter in Voyager by Diana Gabaldon. Third in the series.

Claire and Jamie's daughter travels back in time to try and save her parents in frontier America in Drums of Autumn by Diana Gabaldon. Fourth in the series.

The latest in juvenile fiction:

A ventriloquist's dummy and a life-sized doll wreak havoc in Bride of the Living Dummy, a Goosebumps Series 2000 book.

The girls spend February vacation at the Bar None Ranch and encounter a horse that yearns for its freedom in Horse Whispers from The Saddle Club.

Marco isn't sure he can go against his mother who is now Viser One in The Escape from Animorphs by K.A. Applegate.

New picture books:

When Kristen's mother has her baby at the zoo, all sorts of mix-ups occur in Alligator Baby by Robert Munsch and Michael Martchenko.

When a moose family moves into the neighborhood, Franklin isn't sure that he wants to make friends because Moose is so big and scary in Franklin's New Friend by Paulette Burgeois and Brenda Clark.
